Motorcycle Futures Overview

The latest monthly registration numbers from 2020 being reported from the MCIA, are for December and therefore give us a better idea of how stock levels will be for the future. The year has finished only three thousand less registered for the whole year on 104,612 when compared to 2019, but with the caveat being the larger proportion of learner legal machines with the type being used for public transport avoidance, than the big ticket large capacity items more likely to attract PCP and longevity in the used market. The pandemic affecting the globe has had some influence on supplies, but long term some clarity will start to be apparent over the next year. It has of course been compounded in the UK by Brexit. Supplies at the moment do not appear to be massively compromised, but as we are still in the middle of quieter times and there is time for any situation to develop further. There has been some suggestion that new prices will be affected and there have been manufacturers increasing prices, some on the back of updated Euro 5 models upgrades. Our industry has to be congratulated, for most it's not been reinventing the wheel, more adapting to the current situation by increasing selling on-line. The industry has been quite good at this over the past few years, as dealers who have very high mileage vans will testify to. With opinion from dealers and auction observations, there has been generally, increases applied in this months data release, as long term prospects appear positive with stock supply possibly lower and demand appearing to be stable or better. Still in the throws of lockdown three there is a lot of clarity yet to take place and no doubt we will all be discussing it for most of the year.
