Motorcycle Futures Market Overview

Welcome to another year that looks like the challenges, not only our industry, but industries and people around the world will continue to be affected by shortages of materials or deliveries, amongst many hurdles that keep popping up. The motorcycle industry has done well over the last two years, compared to some. The headline numbers from the MCIA registration figures in the penultimate report of 2021 is up 1,310 (21.9%) more than November last year and has increased by 11,669 (12.1%) in actual registrations. With market share for the year very close to 2020 across the engine mix, the future stock availability could be expected to remain similar to the current market. Go back to the two previous years pre pandemic, 2019, 2018 and the totals for the month (November) were 6,004 and 6,154 respectively. So still encouraging that there will be stock available in the future and it will remain similar to what we are currently experiencing now, subject of course to demand remaining similar. Of course as we have seen in the recent past, there is a shortage of quality stock, which is attracting robust prices and therefore as mentioned for some time now future residuals are expected to remain strong which are again reflected in this month's product.
